RALEIGH, N. C., May 30.—A pleasant event of the week was a bridge party by Mrs. W. W. Robb, at her guests including a number of young ladies who were here for the school commencement. The guests were Mrs. A. S. Pendleton, of Henderson; Mrs. W. M. Marks, of Montgomery; Mrs. J. S. Wayne, of Washington; Mrs. D. C. Miss Lella Phillips, of Tarboro; Miss Alma Mordacai, of New Orleans; Miss Mary Armond Nash, of Charlotte; Miss Elizabeth Cheshire, of Raleigh; and Mrs. F. M. Stinson, of Raleigh.

The last meeting of the season by the Tuesday Afternoon Club was held this week with Mrs. J. Y. Joyner as hostess, the afternoon being devoted to Dickens. Mrs. Burton, Mr. Harden, Mrs. J. S. Wayne, Miss Daisy Denson, and Mrs. B. R. Lay took part in the program of readings and discussions, which proved most delightful and instructive. Mrs. Joyner provided special entertainment that added much to the success of this season's final.

Miss Dinwiddie proved a charming hostess this week for the Fortnightly Review Club. She entertained at the home of her sister, Mrs. B. W. Kilgore, Thursday afternoon. It was the last meeting of the club for the season, and proved one of the most delightful, being devoted to a general round-up of the studies of the season, with a number of special features of entertainment provided by the hostess, who is one of the most delightful entertainers in Raleigh.

The Kentness Book Club met Wednesday with Mrs. Eleanor Vass, who had for her guest of honor Miss Mary Shipp, who left Saturday for New York, where she will embark for a trip abroad this summer. The current topics of the day were discussed by Miss McPheters, and Miss Davis read a pleasing paper, the subject of which was "Madam Lebrun." Those participating in addition to the club members were Mrs. W. M. Marks, of Montgomery; Miss Phillips, of Tarboro; Miss Mason, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Henry Wilson, Mrs. William Monroe, Mrs. Frank Stronach, Mrs. Fred Mahler, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Leigh Skinner, Miss Susan Clark and Miss Fannie Johnson.

There was a barbecue Wednesday afternoon in the State Hospital Grove, near Raleigh, by Mr. Charles Hardesty, in honor of Professor Irving Hardesty, of the chair of anatomy, University of California, who is spending a few weeks here with relatives. The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pearce, Mr. and Mrs. Percy B. Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Royster, Professor and Mrs. W. J. Ferrall, Mrs. C. L. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Barrow, Mr. Sherman Pearce, Miss Eva Hardesty, Miss Lella Dye, and Mr. H. G. Geyer.

Invitations are issued for the marriage of Mr. Joseph T. Bland, of this city, and Miss Ana Rea Kelley, of Apex, the ceremony to be at the home of the bride's mother, in Apex, Wednesday, June 10th. The bride is an accomplished young woman, and the groom is a well known business man of Raleigh.

Miss Katharine Whorton has gone to Washington, D. C., to join a party of six young ladies for the purpose of being abroad until September, under the chaperonage of Miss Clarke, of Gunston Hall, Washington.

Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Stevens entertained the Balg Society this week for the last meeting of the year. Thursday evening, a service of delicious refreshments and other features of entertainment provided by host and hostess, added to the pleasure of the evening, and much profit was derived from an address by Dr. Stevens, of the Bureau of Plant Industry, United States Department of Agriculture. The members of the society this year are M. L. Eagle, of Deima, S. C.; Frank H. Brown, of Chowhee, N. C.; J. P. Spoon, of Hartsville, S. C.; J. L. Galtney, of Fayetteville, John D. Grady, of Albemarle, N. C.; W. H. Eaton, of Cleveland, N. C.; W. A. Hornaday, of Burlington; J. E. Latham, of Washington, N. C.; B. B. Higgins, of Leicester, N. C.; L. A. Higgins, of Leicester, N. C.; John W. Barrett, Jr., Rocky Mount, and D. G. Geyer, N. C. Y. P. I. cmfw w f f w

WILMINGTON, N. C., May 30.—Among the delightful happenings of the week, none was more pleasing in nature than the annual supper of the Brotherhood of St. James' Episcopal Church. The supper took place Thursday night at Wrightsville Beach and was largely attended by members and their friends. A number of informal talks were made, including an excellent happy one from Rev. R. W. Houge, rector of the church. Another pleasurable yearly event of the week transpired Wednesday night, Wrightsville Beach again being the scene, and was that of the regular outing of the Knights of Pythias of Wilmington.

Young society folks appeared Thursday night in a delightful version of that quaint play, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." It was a big charity benefit, and was given in the hands of some hall of the Church of the Good Shepherd. The society folks who made up the cast and the characters they portrayed were Miss Louise Evans, as Mrs. Wiggs; Miss Anne Lord, as Miss Lucy O'Leary; Mr. Denning, as Mr. Robert Redding; Miss Annie Hill Holmes, as Australia; Miss Frances Hedrick, as European; Mr. C. D. Ridgley, as Jimmy; and Mr. William Waters, as Billy.

Yet another event of much pleasure was a silver tea given Wednesday afternoon by the ladies of St. Paul's Episcopal Church at the residence of Mrs. R. C. Cartwright. A superb musical was presented in connection with the tea.

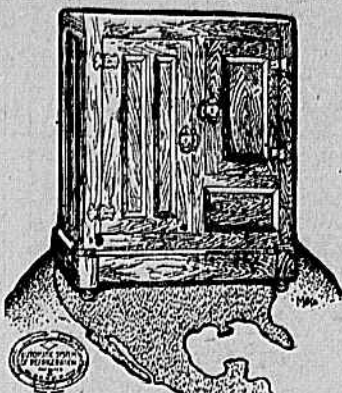

At the handsome Polvoigt home on South Front Street, Thursday afternoon, Mrs. C. W. Polvoigt charmingly entertained a large number of her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Pembroke Jones and Miss Sadie Jones left this week for Newport, and Airline-on-the-Sound is now closed for the season. The Joneses were detained this year on account of the death of Mrs. Jones' sister, Miss Green.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., May 30.—The most interesting social event of the week was the wedding, Wednesday evening of Miss Mabel Cuthbertson and Mr. William Jackson Thomas. The ceremony was performed in the parlor of the Cuthbertson home, on Hanson Place, by Rev. E. L. Bain, assisted by Rev. Frank Siler, and was witnessed by a few intimate friends of the happy couple. Miss Daisy Cuthbertson was maid of honor, and Misses Mary Thomas, of Rockingham, and Miriam Long, of this city, were bridesmaids. Mr. W. S. Thomas was best man. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. J. W. Cuthbertson. A delightful reception followed the ceremony, and later the happy couple left for a Northern tour. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. M. Cuthbertson, and is a charming young woman, while the groom is a prominent young business man.

NORFOLK, VA., May 30.—Ready Norfolk society folks are beginning the annual exodus to the summer cottages of Ocean View, Willoughby Spit and Virginia Beach, now that the hot weather is on in earnest. House parties are being announced daily, and the migration will be completed earlier this year than usual, as a result the city proper is becoming dull socially.

As yet only a small number of summer residents have arrived at the watering resorts, but it is expected that by the middle of June the cottages held by out-of-town parties will be occupied. The cleaning up process is already under way. Practically all of the hotels and larger boarding houses will open promptly on the 1st day of June.

Lieutenant-Commander A. L. Norton, U. S. N., and Mrs. Norton entertained delightfully last evening on the day evening on board of the U. S. S. Iowa. The tables were beautifully decorated in wild spring flowers, and covers were laid for fourteen persons. Those present were Captain and Mrs. D. V. Stuart, U. S. N.; Captain and Mrs. A. C. Dillingham, U. S. N.; Mrs. L. J. Connally, Naval Constructor; W. L. Wattle, Lieutenant-Commander and Mrs. Crose, Dr. and Mrs. Kite, U. S. N., and Lieutenant-Commander and Mrs. Kinkaid.

WASHINGTON PICTURE TO MT. VERNON HOME

Life size picture of George Washington, taken while he was on the staff of Governor Dinwiddie, of Virginia, loaned to the Mount Vernon Ladies' Society by a Glasgow curator.

BY MRS. CHARLES D. BALL, Vice-Regent for Virginia.

The annual council of the Ladies' Mount Vernon Association of the United States, convened in the banquet hall at Mount Vernon on Thursday, May 14th, at 10 A. M., and closed its sessions Friday night, May 22d. There were present the following:

Regent, Mrs. Howard Townsend; Vice-Regents, Mrs. S. E. Johnson Hudson, Connecticut; Mrs. Charles B. Ball, Virginia; Mrs. Jennie M. Ward, Kansas; Mrs. Ida A. Richardson, Louisiana; Mrs. Elizabeth B. A. Rathbone, Michigan; Miss Harriet Clayton Comery, Delaware; Mrs. Alice Hill, Colorado; Mrs. Rebecca B. Flannan, Minnesota; Mrs. J. J. Wilder, Georgia; Mrs. Christine Blair Graham, Missouri; Mrs. Francis S. Conover, New Jersey; Miss Amy Townsend, New York; Mrs. Charles C. Harrison, Pennsylvania; Mrs. Thomas S. Maxey, Texas; Mrs. R. D. Johnston, Alabama; Mrs. Charles F. Manderson, Nebraska; Mrs. Eugene Van Rensselaer, West Virginia; Mrs. John Julius Pringle, South Carolina; Mrs. William Barrett, Kentucky; Mrs. Henry W. Rogers, Maryland; Mrs. Francis Jones Hicks, Mississippi; Mrs. Mary P. Felling, Oregon; Mrs. Eliza L. Leary, Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. J. Carter Brown, Rhode Island.

The council was saddened by the death of two of its most valued members—its beloved dean, Mrs. Letitia Walker, vice-regent for North Carolina, and Mrs. Margaret Sweet, vice-regent for Maine—who had done valuable work for Mount Vernon.

Tributes were read to their memory and recorded in the minutes.

Mount Vernon is in beautiful condition, and each year brings new interest.

Many Relics Presented.

The following relics were presented: six silver teaspoons, with the Washington crest upon their handles, which were used by General Washington at Mount Vernon, given by Mrs. Charles Goldsborough, in accordance with the wish of Mrs. George Goldsborough, late vice-regent for Maryland.

A drawing room chair, presented by Mrs. Charles Washburn, of Baltimore. It was formerly used at Mount Vernon by Washington.

The prayer-book of Mrs. Martha Washington, presented by Mr. George C. Thomas, of Philadelphia, through the vice-regent for Pennsylvania. This prayer-book was printed in 1793. It has the signature of Eleanor Parke Custis Lewis, Washington's adopted daughter. It has also an inscription in the writing of her son, Lorenzo Lewis, "For Mrs. E. A. Lewis."

This prayer-book was read by her great-grandmother, Mrs. Martha Washington.

Miss Mary Custis Lee presented, through the vice-regent for Virginia, a Washington washstand in mahogany. The vice-regent for Michigan read a correspondence between herself and Mr. Austin, American consul at Glasgow, Scotland, and also correspondence with the authorities of the People's Palace, Glasgow, which led to the offered loan to the Mount Vernon Association of the Glasgow portrait, supposed to be George Washington when, at twenty-one years of age, he was made a member in the British army.

Has Interesting History.

The history of this picture is most interesting. It is a full length portrait, in the Windsor style, and in the Evening Times of Glasgow of June 24, 1907, appears a sketch of the picture, taken by its special artist, with the heading, "George Washington, the Father of the American Republic."

There is a tradition that this picture was printed by the order of Governor Dinwiddie, and was taken by him in Glasgow. When Washington became a rebel, it was labeled "unknown," and hung in the Town Hall, and in 1904 it was removed to the People's Palace.

Mr. R. W. Austin, American consul to Glasgow, was attending a lecture delivered by Thomas Layton, who referred to this picture, supposedly of Washington, brought from Virginia before he was a "rebel."

The provost of Glasgow, with the authorities of the museum, offered the painting, "The Unknown," to the Ladies' Mount Vernon Association as a loan. The council accepted this loan with thanks, and the unknown picture now hangs in the banquet room at Mount Vernon, and attracts much attention. The youthful face of Washington appeals to the heart.

Many of the vice-regents attended Pophick Church on Sunday. On Tuesday Governor Swanson and his board of visitors were received. On Thursday a reception was given the council at Woodlawn, the home of Nellie Custis Lewis, by Miss Sharpe. Its present owner.

It is proposed in the near future to restore the hahia fence on the west lawn and make it as it was in the time of Washington. During the meetings of the council most of the vice-regents occupy rooms in the quarters and the spinning house. The vice-regent for Virginia has charge of the room where Washington died, but she occupies a room in the quarters.

From Glasgow Paper.

The following extracts from a Glasgow paper concerning the picture will be found interesting:

"Interest has been revived in one of the loveliest monuments to the Corporation of Glasgow on account of the fact that it has been associated with the name of George Washington, the Father of His Country," as he is affectionately called by Americans. The picture in question is at present exhibited on the walls of the People's Palace, Glasgow Green. It is a full length portrait of a young man, dressed in the uniform of a major in the British army of about the middle of the eighteenth century. Very little of the history of the picture is known, except that it formed part of the old Town Hall collection, and was removed to the People's Palace from Kelvingrove Galleries in 1904.

The old Town Hall, one of the most artistic municipal chambers in the country, stood in the Trongate, immediately adjoining the Tolbooth.
